

R. Camper Bull, PMP

Camper, a co-founder of Armiger International, has held leadership and management positions in both commercial and non-profit organizations. He has led a division of an international software company; served as lead Account Executive for Fortune 500 companies. Camper led development of the multi-media marketing product team and developed the corporate image as an industry leader and innovator in the market. He managed the development of new products including the launch of wireless paging at Bell Atlantic.

His background in developing the strategic planning and implementing growth initiatives for a Global software origination included restructuring the company to better address the market with a global offer, significantly helped the company gain a global footing in the software industry.

Camper has developed and delivered many leadership training programs for commercial, government and nonprofit organizations. Camper teaches Leadership at the graduate level and was on the development team for PMBOK version 4. Camper has been able to transfer these practical skills into useful training tools, helping attendees gain a fast yet comprehensive understanding of these tools in their business environments.

Camper is an international speaker on Leadership for Rotary International and was identified as the “best facilitator of leadership programs”. Camper was granted a Paul Harris Fellowship from Rotary International for “tangible and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations among peoples of the world.”

Camper is the creator of a PMP prep class that not only teaches individuals to pass the exam but how to integrate this knowledge into their everyday project management experience

Credentials

As an active member of the Project Management Institute and a certified Project Management Professional (PMP), Camper has spoke at numerous Project Management Global Congresses is a sought after speaker and trainer He is the author of the book Moving from Project Management and Project Leadership. He also hosts the Project Leadership Podcast a free podcast for the project management industry

Camper was educated at Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, in Economics with concentration in Complex Organizations, Business Ethics, Managerial Economics and Finance. He completed additional studies in the European community in Brussels along with intensive French language studies in Paris.